

Think

Author: Administrator User<info@frifugl.no>

InSpire recently invested in the Norwegian electric car manufacturer Think. Think produced one of the largest fleets of electric vehicles in the world with the TH!NK city, launched in 1999. A new model is now under development and will be launched in Norway in 2007 and selected international markets in 2008.

Think's mission is to create the most environmentally friendly vehicles in the world in a commercially successful way. inSpire will help them achieve this goal by developing a radically modern business model for producing, sourcing, marketing servicing and financing a car that meets the demands of a 21st century business. More information about Think can be found on www.think.no.
